Spelling Bee Competition, 2022 (NCS)

Spelling plays an undeniable role in improving language skill. To draw a note on the importance of spelling it is said that there are three major reasons to learn spelling: Communication, Literacy and Employment opportunity. A person can become a nice speaker but a simple spelling mistake in writing matters a lot. For developing this critical component of language and to improve overall literacy in English of our students, following the legacy of previous years the Department of English (NCS) organized a graceful Spelling-Bee competition on 23 May, 2022.

At first the students of class V & VI participated in the selection round and before the final round the competitors gave a tough challenge to one another. The winners are Eshan Siddique (Champion) from class V, Ishrak Tarannum (1st runner up) and Amirul Azam Anas (2nd runner up) from class VI. It really became a nice programme with the presence of our honourable Principal Mr. Gyanesh Chandra Tripathi, Section- Coordinator Ms. Mukti Chowdhury, Hod of English Ms. Umme Farhana Rima and our teachers.

Counseling Programme on Child Development and Nutrition- 2022 (NCS)

“Children are like wet cement. Whatever falls on them makes an important impression”. (Haim Ginott)

A person between birth and full growth is known as a child. Bringing up a child is the most crucial and important role that a parent has to play. Between birth and the conclusion of adolescence a child goes through various development stages. Child development is the period of physical, cognitive and social growths that begin at birth and continue through early adulthood. On 26th July Home Science Department of NC Senior Section organized a Counseling Programme on Child Development and Nutrition, where the challenges of adolescence were specially prioritized. The Programme was graced by our esteemed Principal Mr. G. C. Tripathi, honourable Vice Principal ma'am of Junior school Mrs. Neeti Tripathi, reverent chief guest Dr. Chandrima Barua (Pediatrician, Chattogram Medical College Hospital, Chattogram), Section Coordinator Ms. Mukti Chowdhury and teachers of NC senior section. Our honourable Principal felicitated the chief guest in typical CIDERian style and delivered his speech emphasizing on our students' overall development. All the students got a great lesson to achieve their full development potential from the speech and resourceful presentation of our respected chief guest. Students' performances were also very praiseworthy. Afhia Zahin, student of Grade-VIII, anchored the whole programme in a startling way. A role play named “Play Therapy” was presented by the students of Grade-VI focusing the importance of playing games for child development. Two power point presentations have been shown by the students where the students of grade VII & VIII tried to raise awareness about body shaming & racism as well as how to prevent malnutrition. Memories are the moments of life which are very close to heart and ever remembering and if the memories are with friends, it's surely the best. Today, I will share the memories of 55 hours, the memories of Duke journey, 2022 in Bandarban. The best time I spent in my life till now.

We reached our main destination the Sairu Hill Resort at 2:30 PM. Reaching there, we had rest for a while and then went for our Duke activities. Duke activities are special kind of games very different from ordinary games where we have to use our brains as well as give our physical effort. Playing games was tough as well as fun. Swimming in pool was one of our regular activities there from 5:00 PM to 6:30 PM. The first night was the best. We all sat together and sang many songs. The best part was the duo of Shattanjay Sir and Debarpan, singing "Shei Tumi" of Ayub Bachu. The second day was great as well. We started our day with exercise and tracking throughout the area of the resort. After having our breakfast, we went for visiting some tourist spots of Bandarban such as Chimbuk, Nilgiri, Shorno Mondir, ShoiloPropat etc. These places were so beautiful and eye-catching and it was so fun walking through the hills with friends. We had our lunch in a small wooden restaurant and it was a different experience. Then we came back to resort and played football together and then swam for some time. The best part was the evening view of the sunset behind the mountains from the resort's restaurant. We had a BBQ party at night which was unexpected. I can still remember that we were requesting Murad Sir to stay a day more there. The next day was fun too but we all were a bit sad as we had to leave Bandarban that day. However, we enjoyed the day. We signed out from the resort at 9:30 AM after having our breakfast and went to Nilachol and from there we went Meghla. Both the places were so amazing and sliding through the slides was the best there. From there we left Bandarban after having our lunch.

This trip was a different experience in my life and my first long trip with the members of my second home. Surely, those days were the best days of my life.

National Mourning Day -2022 (NCS)

47th Death Anniversary of the father of the nation, Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman

15 August is the day of national mourning. This is the day when entire the Bangladesh and even nature shed tears. Because this day of August, back in 1975, seemed like a rainy August. The brutal bloodshed of Bangabandhu was the representation of the weeping of the sky out of extreme grievance.

The time when the murderers were doing brush fire to all the family members of Bangabandhu at the hour just before dawn, it was raining as if nature was weeping. Frightened Bangladesh against the raised firearms was all bemused in mourning and unexpected sudden shock. 15th August is the day to lament on the 47th anniversary of the martyrdom of the architect of independence Father of the Nation Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman.

To observe the day CIDER International School (NC Senior Section) organized a programme where poetry recitation, song, power point presentation, discussion on the significance of Bangabandhu's life were done by the students.

Bangabandhu was killed physically but his soul is immortal. He lives eternally. Because, he is the visionary and the architect of our golden Bengal. As long as this country exists, he will exist immortally. He influenced the whole Bangali nation with the spirit of nationalism to be brave enough to start an armed revolution against the colonial ruler and oppressor of the Pak Military force. So, he is immortal to the spirit of this nation. Bangabandhu is not just a person, he is a thought that reinvigorates the whole nation.

From Old Diaries - The Alumni Corner

My Alma-Mater – CIDER

My family bears a CIDER legacy. Being the third sibling in a row to attend CIDER from PG to my A-levels, I don't remember a time when my house didn't have the ever familiar green CIDER logo in every corner. It is difficult to explain what CIDER means to me, simply because CIDER has always been there. How could I describe something I have always had in my life and how do I imagine a life without it? CIDER is a second home to us, would be putting it lightly.

Being a tiny tot, I remember watching my elder brothers going to school and always wanting to follow them there. Eventually, I did and what a time I had. I was one of those outgoing people who loved every bit of the school experience.

I have always been a studious one and had the privilege to be selected for the 'President' Award' for four consecutive years. Although, I did not win the award, I was happy that I was one of the top two students of my school. CIDER did not only nurture my academic side, but also my artistic aspect. I remember as a child, my first participation in The Annual Function. I had few performances, out of which I had a small dance piece for the lyrics 'O hoky poky poky' - this was when everyone in the school hall started cheering and hooting for me. That was my first taste of the spot light and the grand experience of being the star on the stage. CIDER gave me that unforgettable experience and instilled in me the confidence of a performer. I let my love for dancing and singing to shine through. After that, I was known to all the students and teachers as the 'go-to'-girl for our cultural and annual functions.

CIDER has been limitless in encouraging its students to enhance their skills and showcase their talents through extra-curricular activities. I was no different. I was given the opportunity to shoot for the stars and I certainly took my opportunities as they came. I eagerly participated in debate as well sports and I did it throughout my school career. Now, after sixteen years when I look at the corner where all my numerous shinning awards sit in rows, I associate them with cherished memories.

I also held the honor of being the Head girl. I had the privilege to work with twenty fellow students closely. I could then connect better with all the students under me and felt a sense of responsibility and kinship towards them. I organized so many events with them and for them. I became a closer part of CIDER during that period. It was a maturing moment for me that I hold dear.

The memories which are truly memorable and etched onto my heart and brain were the trips to Cox's Bazar and Sylhet. We had a blast with the teachers, seniors and friends. Remembering the bus and train ride still makes me smile uncontrollably. One of the most important experiences in my life was the study excursion to India. I had a great experience, travelling with friends and teachers to India and showcase my talent there. It was the utmost honor to represent our country and CIDER. We had the most beautiful time there. When we returned, we had tears in our eyes. We had become something of a family.

I will always remember everything that I have gained here. Even, the few nicknames by my teachers - Nasreen Miss called me 'Miss Chotpoti' due to my chirpy nature, Biplob sir named me "Phunsukh Wangdu" and many more.

It has sculpted and polished me into the woman I am today. It has raised us as strong and confident people. To all the lovely teachers, we cannot thank you enough for all the guidance, support and motivation you have given us. It was a privilege to learn from you all. CIDER is not just a school to me, it is not something I simply think about every now and then. It holds a special place in my heart, that I carry with me as I go along this journey of life. I will grow further, change for the better and achieve more, but CIDER is what has given me my strong foundation. So, Thank you CIDER, for everything!
